

From: Mariette Knoblauch
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/25/02 1:04pm
Subject: Microsoft Settlement

My thoughts are that the proposed settlement in the Microsoft case is completely inadequate. It ignores the damage Microsoft's past anti-competitive practices have done in the past to competing systems (OS/2 and Amiga, for example), and does not do enough to prevent future anti-competitive practices.

Any fair settlement must allow competitors access to the desktop and to the APIs, and must contain provisions for oversight of Microsoft's dealings with competitors and OEMs.

Mariette Knoblauch